

FairLex is an emerging legal platform built for thinkers, writers, and changemakers in law. It brings together students, researchers, academicians, and practitioners to share sharp insights, publish impactful articles, and engage in meaningful discussions on contemporary legal and policy issues. FairLex creates a space where ideas don't just exist, they influence.

CALL FOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS

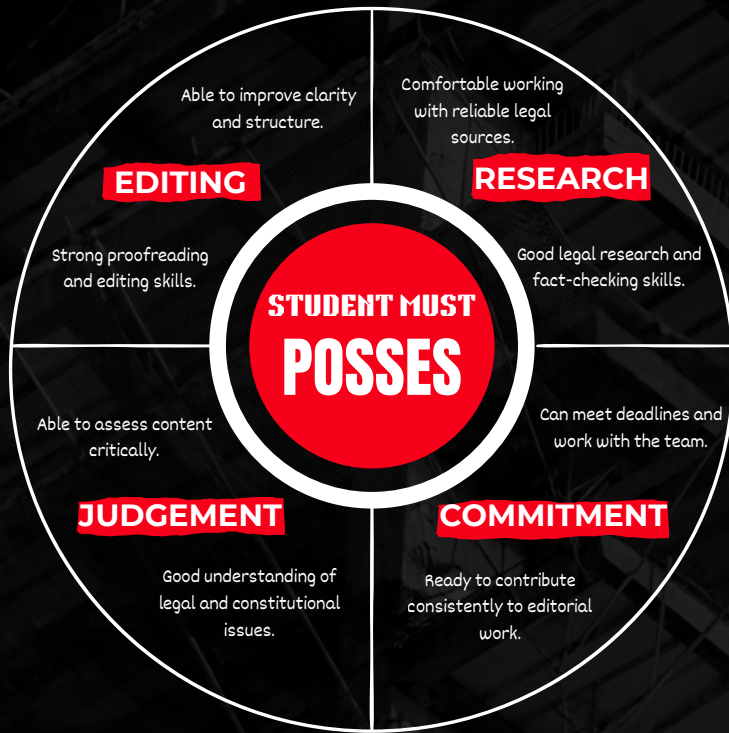

Fairlex is inviting applications from enthusiastic and committed law students to join its Editorial Board as Associate Editors. The Associate Editors will work closely with the editorial team and contribute to the review, editing and development of manuscripts submitted for publication on FairLex.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Review and edit manuscripts submitted to Fairlex for publication.
- Examine articles for legal accuracy, originality, structure, clarity and analytical depth.
- Verify citations, authorities and legal propositions wherever necessary.
- Provide constructive feedback to authors and suggest revisions.
- Assist in maintaining FairLex's academic and editorial standards.
- Contribute to the development of case commentaries, research articles, legislative analyses and opinion pieces.

- Participate in editorial discussions and brainstorming sessions for future publications.
- Assist the editorial team in identifying contemporary legal and policy issues suitable for publication.
- Undertake other editorial and research-related responsibilities assigned by the Editorial Board.
